There are more than 40 breeds of sheep in the United States. A breed is a group of animals that have common ancestry. They will look similar and have similar production traits. Sheep can be large or small; and come in different colors like black, white, or red. To learn more about sheep breeds, check out the Website: www.ansi.okstate.edu/breeds.

Can you find an example of each of the following breeds?

1. Meat Breed
2. Fine Wool Breed
3. Coarse Wool Breed
4. Hair Breed
5. Ewe Breed
6. Black-Faced Breed
7. Dairy Breed
8. Dual-Purpose Breed
